COMPANY OVERVIEW

Modelware Systems is a South African company specializing in data-focused solutions. We offer consulting, advisory, and learning services in Data Management, all designed to help organizations build enterprise-wide information management maturity.

Founded in 2003 by Howard Diesel, Modelware was established with a vision to uplift and continuously support data professionals across the African continent.

We are deeply committed to the success of our trainees, clients, and partners. As a DAMA-aligned organization, our training and advisory services are designed to empower data leaders to recognize and manage Enterprise Data as a strategic asset of real value.

DATA MANAGEMENT EXPEDITION

At Modelware Systems, we liken your data career to climbing Mount Everest, with a mentor as your Sherpa. Your journey begins with the Base Camp Trek—a preparation phase for the CDMP Data Management Fundamentals exam. From there, the Data Management Expedition begins: a personalized mentoring program that starts with a career assessment and roadmap to CDMP Master Certification. You'll complete tasks and have regular mentor check-ins to stay on track toward your goals. (Price depends on package)
